Must Protect Ower Property States Mayor W. W. Vannier

Pirate the Monies If Necessary
He Said, 'We Created the Situation'

Council Asks Dr. Dave Wood To Continue Representation

The City Council met in adjourned session with all Councilmen, City Attorney, and City Administrator present in white shirts, except one, who expressed little confidence in the heating system of the City Hall and presented himself in a sort of dingy brown wool shirt. Later this proved to have no adverse effect on the business at hand. Councilman Sorensen was his usual witty self.

Letters were read from Jessie Dunning relative to the watershed fire station, and she was complimented for time spent and research on this all important project which will require much study and future action.

Since it was a budgeted item, a motion was made and carried that the work start on the Civic Center, the planning of which was set forth at budget time. All items of the December meeting of the Planning Commission were reviewed, hearings noted, and no changes requested.

A petition was received for processing, for a sewer district on Highland Avenue from Baldwin to Mt. Trail. Formerly this section was included in another district which was found insufficient. This section has now divorced itself, and asked to be considered as a separate district. If the petition is found sufficient, a hearing will be called in the near future.

Bids were opened for the construction of Sewer District 79, a private road known as Grand View Lane. The bid was let to the J. M. Construction Company as low bidder for the amount of $6,935.20.

At a December meeting of the Council, Charles Ower, through his attorney Noren Eaton put the Council on notice, that due to a change in the construction of the street in front of his home, which to his opinion caused water and residue to cross his property, and that potential damage would and could be done, that he was hereby notifying them of future court action to recover, should rain and flood waters cause the damage expected.

In a review of the monies available, for all flood control work the Capital Improvement Committee recommended that a business permit to be given for the vealed in a report that due to the failure of a certain Bond Issue, that some conditions could not be considered for expenditures until late 1964 and some of them in 1965.

At this meeting Mayor Vannier reminded Council that the condition of removal of the crown in the road was their doing. Should water and debris inflict damage to this property, court action might have the tendency of costing more than righting the situation at this time.

The City Engineer stated that there were only two solutions to the problem, one the construction of a berm, which in itself would cause a traffic hazard, and be temporary, and at a cost of $300. Or a permanent catch basin which would cost in the vicinity of $3,000.

Disregarding the source of monies for its construction, and hoping to pirate this amount from other flood projects, Mayor Vannier insisted that the Council come to immediate action on the proposition.

After discussion a motion was made and seconded that a permanent catch basin be constructed at a cost, not to exceed $3,000, and the City Engineer instructed to proceed to eliminate potential damages. The motion carried by a roll call vote of 4 to 1.

Little Theater Group for use of a building for four nights, such permit subject to regulations of the City Code, plus other conditions that may be set forth by the Police and Fire departments. These conditions dealing with smoking, marked exits and number in attendance at any one performance.

The delivery of water to the Lillano tract was discussed with the subdivider with definite commitments to be made at the January meeting.

New Hope For Disabled

Sierra Engineering Co. Develops New Sierra Arm

With an almost imperceptible shrug of the shoulder, the man across the table picked up a pack of cigarettes. He lit it casually, holding it lightly between his fingers.

After inhaling deeply, he placed the cigarette in the crevice of the ash tray and rested his hands gently on the table. To the casual observer this commonplace act would have gone unnoticed. It was so natural, so smoothly and deliberately done that even the visitor had forgotten his host's disability; until he said, "See, I'm getting better at it all the time."

The amazing part of what had just occurred was that the man across the table had lost an arm a number of years ago. Shortly afterward, for appearance sake, he had been fitted with an artificial arm prosthesis. For practical purposes the device was of limited use. Now, fitted with a new gas-powered arm prosthesis developed by Sierra Engineering Co., Sierra Madre, California, the psychological change in the man was almost incredible.

Today the Sierra arm is providing a new hope for the disabled. It is a unique concept in prosthetic design, heralding a new era in the rehabilitation of amputees. It is the first of a series of highly sophisticated prosthetic devices which will be available in years to come.

L. Benson Marsh, director of Sierra's prosthetic division, inventor of the new arm and a recognized authority in the field of prosthetics, describes the events leading up to this revolutionary development.

Actually the prosthetic profession is quite old, dating back before the time of Christ. For centuries amputees were forgotten men. Little or no attention was paid to the problem, especially to upper extremity prostheses (fingers, hands, arms and shoulders.) These losses were usually replaced by little more than clumsy wood, leather or metal appendages. They were operated by leather or rawhide thongs, or rope which slid over the surface of the device and required considerable effort on the part of the user because of friction and mechanical limitations inherent in such devices.

Attention focused on the state of the prosthetic art toward the close of World War II. Thousands of service men maimed in combat wanted to return to a useful civilian life. The Veterans Administration and other federal agencies made funds available for that purpose and a research and development program was initiated. Designers and manufacturers were sought with the unique capabilities required to develop new concepts and transform their ideas into practical, workable form.

Sierra Engineering Co. was one of a handful of companies able to meet the rigid requirements set up by the program. Its success has, in large measure, been spearheaded by Harry L. Daulton, Sierra's president. His faith in the ultimate success of the program has been an inspiration to everyone concerned.

Sierra's long standing experience, capabilities and modern equipment produced significant developments in this long neglected field. War-born materials and methods proved to be a fertile source for the prosthetic manufacturers. Plastic laminates were found to

Boyd Smith Is New Member

Boyd Smith, city building inspector, has received his membership certificate in the Hole-In-One Club at the Santa Anita Golf Club.

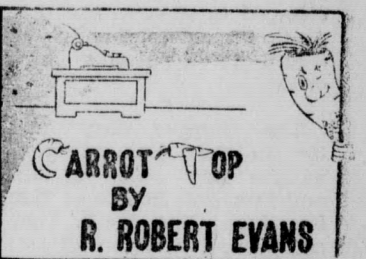

Boyd made a 130-yard drive and the ball rolled into Hole No. 4. He has been playing golf for nearly five years and is an associate member of the men's golf club at Santa Anita.

Appleford Now In Mississippi

Airman Basic Stephen J. Appleford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Appleford of 395 Mariposa Ave., Sierra Madre, is being reassigned to Keesler AFB, Miss., for technical training as a United States Air Force communications operations specialist.

The airman, a 1960 graduate of Pasadena High School, attended Pasadena City College, where he received his Associate of Arts degree.

Here it is January 17 and I am just getting down to paying my Christmas bills.

One thing for sure, a guy can sure get over-enthusiastic during the singing of Christmas carols, decorations and the lush displays put out by the local merchants.

Oh well, as I keep telling myself, Christmas comes but once a year, and what a glorious feeling, especially between Christmas and the New Year . . . no bills yet, and beautiful gifts laying all over the house . . . then comes the sad awakening. It would sure be a catastrophe if license plates, State income tax, Federal income tax, property tax and federal and state reports all became due on Dec. 15.

I can see a lot of different things hanging on the Christmas Tree on the morning of December 25, and it is hard to believe that my two daughters would be happy opening a package containing brand new license plates, and wife Peggy with property tax statements marked paid, and me with a box of reports all made out, and all ready sent in.

But as the Federal Government keeps telling us: "No other nation in the world has ever equalled our record. It is a tribute to our people, their traditions of honesty, and their high sense of responsibility in supporting our democratic form of government." Be happy that you live in the good old United States and more especially in Sierra Madre and its surrounding area . . . indeed it is a privilege.

As announced in last week's News, Joan Curtis has again consented to be our Chamber of Commerce President, and we wish him as much success as he had during the year 1962. He has named a hard working bunch of committeemen, and all of them will be installed at a very impressive Installation Banquet to be held soon.

These are the men who put their shoulders to the wheel, with extra activity throughout the year in doing all they can and all in their power to make Sierra Madre a much better place in which to shop and live. We congratulate these men and wish them every success possible.

Leaving the serious side of life for a moment we dwell upon "Women," a very pleasant place to dwell. "Women now outlive men, own more stocks, infiltrate the armed services, —Please turn to Page 7

YEP, THIS IS SIERRA MADRE on the morning of January 13, 1963 in the vacant lots at 151 Orange Grove Ave., next to the F. A. Spencer home at 139 Orange Ave. in Sierra Madre. This is ice you see on the orange trees and on the weeds in the fore ground, and this is what happens when you forget and leave the overhead sprinklers on all night when the temperatures drop to the low 20's. In the lower picture can be seen the trees are orange trees with the branches being split to the ground with the heavy weight of the ice. At 9 a.m. it was quite a spectacle of "Winter Wonderland" in Sierra Madre.

Court of Honor Awards

Boy Scout Troop 376 Enjoys Active Calendar

Twelve Boys Win Scout Awards

Twelve boys from Troop 376 won awards at Court of Honor Monday night, Jan. 7. Leading the group were four first-class winners: Ken Lutzow, Jack Ross, Phil VanDeVerg, and Don Hornbeck.

Five boys won second-class status: Bob Cannon, Kip Christiansen, Chris Embree, Mark Graham, and Dave Rickard. Mark Sailor was given tenderfoot rank.

In addition, two-year service awards were given to Bob Cannon, Jack Ross and Don Hornbeck (all double-award winners), while one-year awards were given to Jim Lohr, Ken Lutzow, and Phil VanDeVerg. Ken Lutzow was then given a one-year perfect attendance pin, his third award of the evening. Hugh Parton New Committee Chairman

Hugh Parton was elected chairman of the troop committee, at a meeting following Court of Honor January 7. Bud VanDeVerg was elected camping chairman, thus filling two important positions that had been vacant. (Scoutmaster Dick Davey has ably doubled in these positions the past few months).

Others who agreed to continue in troop responsibility were: Ken Rickard, institutional representative; Pearl Lutzow, secretary; Barbara Graham, treasurer; Bob Cannon, advancement; Ken Christiansen, transportation; Ralph Hornbeck, publicity; and Claude Brown and Bill Lohr, patrol dads. Other committee members include Alvin Embree, Jim Ross, Don Seymour, John Sparks, and Sam Stockstill.

Snow Camp Jan. 19-20

The boys of troop 376 are eagerly looking forward to Snow Camp Jan. 19-20 while keeping their fingers crossed, hoping there'll be snow. Camp will be in the Mt. Baldy area. Bud VanDeVerg, Jim Ross, and Claude Brown will provide transportation, with Scout-

Man Injured In Accident

John C. Evans, age 70, of 180 San Gabriel Court, is in the Sierra Madre Community Hospital with three broken ribs and a lacerated chin and jaw as the result of a freak traffic accident that occurred Tuesday, Jan. 14 at 9:57 a.m. when his 1957 Pontiac went out of control, jumped the curb and rammed into the folded entrance door sat a near 90 degree angle at Dickson's Market on W. Sierra Madre Blvd., completely demolishing the front end of the automobile.

Mr. Evans had backed out of a parking space west of the market, headed east, when the throttle stuck and he evidently lost control of the car, swiping into the side of a station wagon, owned by Mrs. LaRheha Green of Arcadia who was sitting at the wheel. She was not injured.

Joseph M. Dodd Succumbs At 89

Joseph M. Dodd, age 89 years, of 99 W. Grand View, passed away suddenly in a Los Angeles Hospital on Monday, Jan. 14. He was born in Philadelphia, Penna., and lived in Sierra Madre and California for 1 1/2 years.

He was formerly a teacher of shoe manufacturing in the Industrial plant at Sing Sing Prison in New York.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Jessie D. Code also of 99 W. Grand View Ave., a son, Russell L. Dodd of Bloomington, Ind., three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Thursday, Jan. 17, 1 p.m. at Ripple Mortuary with Dr. Crawford W. Brown of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, San Gabriel, officiating.

Committal will be private at Mt. View Mausoleum, Pasadena.

Civic Club Donates To March of Dimes

The Sierra Madre Civic Club is sponsoring an all out drive to assure the success of local participation in the March of Dimes fund raising project which opened Jan. 1. Funds derived from this drive are used for polio, arthritis and birth defects as well as medical scholarships.

At the club's regular business meeting, Jan. 10, it was voted to donate $100 to the Mothers March fund of the March of Dimes. This famed event is to be held on Jan. 29 this year. Residents are requested to leave their porch lights lit to assist the Mothers in their march.

Mrs. Julius Hammer-schmitt has again accepted general chairmanship of the drive for Sierra Madre and Mrs. Leo Anderson is the Mothers March chairman. Mrs. Anderson has announced that the captains for the Mothers March are:

Mrs. Stanley Yelich, Mrs. Lili Rios, Mrs. Louis Solton, Mrs. Ted Valesquez, Mrs. James Vine, Mrs. Bryce Tyler, Mrs. Richard Barden, Mrs. Norman Kennedy, Mrs. Franklin McNeill, Mrs. John Matter and Mrs. Willard Mescher. She has advised that more mothers (or fathers too) are needed on the evening of Jan. 29 to collect for this very worthy cause. Those interested are urged to call EL 5-7798.

Lee Shippey Writes On Government

The language in commercials Quite often makes me fret. Frinstance, what the heck can be A "cool, calm" cigarette?

The Los Angeles Times says price supports have made the price of butter so high millions of us have quit using it, with the result that thousands of tons of it are stored in government warehouses or given away for school lunches or relief of needy persons, so that actually the poor are the only Americans, as a group, who can afford real butter most of the time. Actually, The Times says, more real butter is now being given away to such groups than is being sold, and Uncle Sam has to pay out huge sums for storage of butter nobody wants, just as the surplus wheat nobody wants is costing us millions in government warehouses. This makes us wonder why science doesn't create substitute steaks and chops as satisfactory as are numerous substitutes for real butter. It also makes us wonder if the main reason why Congress hasn't done anything to improve a palatably ridiculous but tremendously costly program in that too many Congressmen are far less interested in I'll bet that once we simmer down and accept all

In Memory To Walter Thurber

In memory and in honor of a beloved Sierra Madre citizen, Walter Thurber, the City Council of the City of Sierra Madre devoted the first minute of their meeting January 8 in prayer in his memory. Later they adjourned their meeting in his honor. Further by the request of Chairman Warren M. Dorn, the Board of Supervisors adjourned their meeting of January 8 in Walter's memory. The Board of Supervisors then requested a permanent memorial be sent to his wife Ruth in an expression of their deepest sympathy.

New Concept In Banking Opens To Public This Week

An entirely new concept in banking will be introduced this week to the people of Sierra Madre, Hastings Ranch, Pasadena and the trade area when the Union Bank opens its new Regional Head Office at Lake and Cordova Avenues in Pasadena.

The grand opening of this new bank is being held this week and you are invited to attend this celebration, with a special Open House Night to be held Thursday evening from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Refreshments are served all week during banking hours and you have the opportunity to register for their gigantic drawing at 5 p.m. Friday, Jan. 18. One of the outstanding features of this drawing will be that it is not necessary for you to be present to be a winner. The Grand prize offered is an RCA 21 inch color TV set, other prizes include ten $50 Union Bank Daily interest Savings Accounts and ten RCA transistor radios to the next twenty names drawn respectively.

The Union Bank with resources now over one billion dollars, has played an important part in the growth of Pasadena and its neighboring communities for nearly a half a century.

Now through this new Regional Head Office, Union —Please turn to Page 3

Standing at my laundry tub the other day madly hand washing out a veritable mountain of wash and wear garments, I got thinking about the fallacy of modern day advertising. I spend over half my washing time playing nursemaid to the drip dries that have eased their way into our family's wardrobe. The labels say, wash carefully in lukewarm suds, rinse and drip dry. So what? Then you go get out your iron with a spray yet and a dial setting for those supposed wash and wear products and you IRON and IRON and IRON!

It's kind of cute when you stop to think about it. Nineteen years ago when I said I do we also agreed that I don't. I don't iron shirts well at all, and I have an absolute phobia about scorching starched garments. For me, it's not hard at all. We'd cut out some other luxury, but the man of the house would always be freshly starched and ironed via someone else's talents. Then came the blow—drip dries!

Any idiot can wash a drip dry—matter of fact they can lightly touch them with an iron, and who would send a drip dry to a laundry? Now gallons of water shed and wet feet from here to eternity, I'm wondering just how this change was ever allowed to start in the first place. Pie on wash and wear—hail to the hand laundries!

The "Supper Club" met for the first time this year at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rogers at 1820 Pasadena Glen Road. They moved in just before Christmas and although they still have a lot to do in the way of finishing, there is little doubt that their house is one of the prettiest yet.

Those on deck for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paquette, Mr. and Mrs. John Willes, Mr. and Mrs. George Amthor, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huber and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Germain.

New in the Rogers' former home at 1802 Pasadena Glen are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cowley, former residents of Old Grove Road in the Glen.

The Cowleys are a delightful young couple with lots of fun ideas in regard to decorating their new home. They plan to have their living room furnished in Japanese modern and their family room will be in Scandinavian modern, including a Scandavian free-standing fireplace. Mr. Cowley has become a shutterbug in the last few days and, as Julie says, it is a most time-consuming hobby.

He is plant manager for Specific Electronics on Green Street.

I took another arm chair trip via the telephone the other day. I called Mrs. Roy G. Johnson to hear about their family trip into Mexico and all points around. They left December 8 with their daughter, Judy, for a week of sightseeing in Mexico City before they were joined by their son, Rob. From there they went on to Taxco and Acapulco, where they enjoyed seeing all the weaving and the silver shops, plus wonderful weather and ideal water skiing. Then the family flew on to Oaxaca where they visited the ruins of Monte Alban. The site was built in the period of 200 B.C. through 800 A.D. by the Zapotec Indians entirely without mortar and steel tools as we know them, and yet they were able to table off the top of a mountain and build their shrines with perfect precision and engineering, so that much of it still remains today, and more is yet to be uncovered. They have found priceless jewels in some of the tombs which they have preserved in a small museum which itself is around 200 years old.

From there they drove to the neighboring site of Mitla, also built by these same Indians around 800 A.D. There is evidence of 30 buildings and there are some that have been built entirely as a large stone mosaic with pebbles and boulders forming a picture story the entire length of the building.

One of the high spots of this jaunt was a visit to a little Mission Covenant Church that was founded by a Zapotec Indian who had joined the church while working in Texas. He went back and founded this little mission with nothing but his faith to support him. It is growing and now is receiving some support from the local Mission Covenant Church.

From there they flew back to Mexico City and then on to the Hacienda Vista Hermosa, which is about a two-hour drive from Mexico City over the Pan-American highway. It is an old form, built somewhere in the 1500's, that has been restored to use as a hotel. There were about 60 guests sharing in the eve of Christmas celebration which included cock fights, bands playing, fireworks displays, the traditional Posada and the breaking of the pinata, followed by a sumptuous dinner at 10 p.m. with more music. They flew on to Guatemala City and then on to Chi Chi Castenango, where they arrived in time for the weekly market sales. It is a beautiful rugged country surrounded by three volcanoes. The population in the area is 65% pure Indian, and each inhabitant wears the costume of his or her own village. The altitude ranges between 7,000 and 12,000 feet. On market day the natives come from miles around bringing all of their wares to the big open market for sales. Beautiful craftware may be purchased for just pennies compared to the worth established in this country. It has all of the pageantry and color you can imagine with all of the different costumes.

Then they went on to the original capital of Antigua which was almost completely destroyed by the volcano. Then on to Atitlan, which has a magnificent large blue lake with a volcanic mountain behind it. Surrounding the lake are 12 small villages named after the 12 apostles.

Upon their return to Guatemala City they had the opportunity of going through the President's palace and also seeing the huge state reception rooms. A beautiful trip only slightly marred by the fact that Judy was bitten by a stray dog and had to come home and have the anti-rabies serum.

The Rosemary Cottage bridge group luncheoned and played cards at the home of Mrs. Ken Christianson last week. The party included Mrs. W. P. Rittenhouse, Mrs. Sidney Parker, Mrs. Charles Goldsberry, Mrs. Gene Rode, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Charles Hardison and I substituted for Mrs. Wells Pleas.

Power Companies Propose 100-Million Dollar Line

California's four major investor-owned electric utilities jointly announced today plans to construct the nation's longest extra high voltage power transmission line, linking the Pacific Northwest to California.

In making the announcement, Southern California Edison Company President Jack K. Horton said this will make unnecessary the spending of from $100 million to $245 million of federal taxpayers' money to build a federal government interconnection from Bonneville to Los Angeles.

The companies propose a coordinated electric power interchange agreement and a 650-mile, 500,000-volt, $11-million transmission line extending from Oregon to Los Angeles. This would be a longer line and of higher voltage than any now in commercial operation in the United States.

In addition to tapping surplus hydroelectric power from the Columbia Basin area for direct use by customers of the four California investor-owned electric companies, the new project envisions sharing benefits with the State of California for pumping needs of the State Water Plan and with the major publicly-owned electric utilities of the state—Department of Water and Power of the City of Los Angeles, the Metropolitan Water District, and Sacramento Municipal Utility District.

Horton cited the proposal as an example of cooperation among the state, the major publicly-owned generating agencies and the investor-owned companies, which will result in great benefit to California's water and power users. He said he is hopeful that arrangements can be completed at an early date among the State and the public and investor-owned agencies.

The investor-owned companies propose to build the line with private capital and eliminate the need for the federal government to spend some $100 million to $245 million of taxpayer monies for a similar line. The EHV transmission line also will contribute at least $110 million in local, state and federal tax revenues over a 20-year period. It also will reduce substantially the $18 million annual deficit under which the Bonneville Power Administration of the federal government in the Northwest has been operating, he said.

Today's announcement took the form of a letter of proposal from Edison, Pacific Gas and Electric, San Diego Gas and Electric, and California Electric Power to the U.S. Department of Interior's Bonneville Power Administration, Portland, Oregon. The four companies comprise the California Power Pool and, together, they serve more than 12 million people, have a combined generating capacity of nearly 13 million kilowatts, and directly supply about 75% of all energy produced in the state.

Horton said the companies hope to meet with Luce at his "earliest convenience to work out a definitive contract," preferably for a 20-year term. The companies' proposal was in answer to Luce's and the House Appropriations Committee's request for a plan to assure "the most feasible and economical plan for construction and use of intertie facilities" between the Northwest and Los Angeles.

Although at present specifically intertied only California and Oregon, the companies' proposed project may go beyond these immediate objectives by paving the way for an ultimate Pacific Northwest-Pacific Northwest interconnection. Studies are already under way on alternate plans to connect the Southern California area and the Arizona-New Mexico region.

The companies' Los Angeles to Oregon line will be capable of receiving up to 900,000 kilowatts of Northwest power and a maximum of 7½ billion kilowatt-hours per year, he said. Completion of the line is expected by 1967.

He noted that the California companies also agree to sell and deliver off-peak energy to Bonneville when needed for use in the Northwest region and to exchange power with Bonneville for mutual protection in emergencies.

The doctrine that all men are, in any sense, or have been, at any time, free and equal, is an utterly baseless fiction.

Year 1962 52 Calls For Fire Chief Charles E. Brown reports that for the year 1962 the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department answered a total of 52 calls. There were 34 calls involving dwellings and miscellaneous fires such as brush and rubbish, 8 calls were for auto fire. Ten calls were answered where the alarm was not sounded.

The total loss from the various fires for the year was $29,079. Building loss accounted for $16,849, contents loss was $12,220, for a per capita loss of approximately $3 per person. Overall attendance at fires was an average of 17.26 men, on day fires from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. an average of 15.73 men responded at night fires from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. the average was 19.75 men responding.

The chief expresses the hope that with continuing help from the people of Sierra Madre that our loss for the year 1963 will be less.

Country Cousins Of Casa Colina Plan Gala Day

Country Cousins of Casa Colina, their husbands and guests are planning a gala day at the races Thursday, Jan. 17, according to Mrs. Tully Warren, president.

The group will see a race named for the Casa Colina Rehabilitation Center in Pomona, beneficiary of their fund-raising efforts, during the afternoon's program and Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Eleanor Sullivan, chairman of the Country Cousins' benefit fashion luncheon Feb. 19, will participate in the winner's circle ceremonies following its running. Arrangements and reservations on the luncheon terrace have been handled by Mrs. David MacTavish, secretary of the group.

Members are anticipating the day with pleasure, after which they will concentrate on plans and participate in workshops to prepare for their annual benefit, "Spring Prelude, 1963," featuring this year the couture designs of Don Loper of Beverly Hills in his first appearance, Feb. 19.

The PLAZA Shop Talk

By Sewall Clark

HAVE YOU ever awakened in the night with someone beside you poking your ribs, whispering: "What was THAT?"

Maybe you've been talking in your sleep and you are being asked to repeat yourself. But it's too late to tell your attorney to prepare a guarded statement and, besides, there is fear in the question. It suggests that your home is being invaded.

YOU'RE still half asleep and so relaxed, if there were a prowler outside, you could almost feel sympathetic for the poor guy; let him take whatever he could find, if he would just go quietly.

But the voice next to you is filled with fear, whispering in tones so loud you could hear it a block away. Fear, being the contagious plague that it is, infiltrates your mind, your heart starts pounding and you find yourself wondering how many gangsters you have ever known in your life who would be out to get you.

SO YOU can't think of a one. But fear, I believe, is a close cousin to "brainwashing." It can convince you of things that are not true — at least temporarily.

The noise you hear may be a raccoon at garbage; wonderful animals. I used to feed them in my kitchen. After all, why make it so hard for them to pry the lid to the garbage can?

Maybe it's a window shade touched by the wind. Even more sneaky: don't you know that woodwork or metals can make a crackling sound in change of temperatures?

THE REASON I'm yacking like this is because of the human interest that pours in and out of the Plaza Shop every day. Trudie, being the "motherly type," puts her heart into every sale. As a journalist I'm trying to learn enough to help her, but I find myself going off into corners, impressed by how our two fields are so closely knit; treating all persons the same, tall, short, fat or thin; rich or poor.

AS FOR the theme: "Fear in the Night," that's easy. Some persons have said they were afraid to enter the Plaza Shop because it looked "too exclusive." They also had learned that Trudie is a charter member of the California Fashion Designers.

Sounds "scary?" Please. Let's not have rumor or the rapping of a window shade. The fact of Trudie's experience means she can sell you beautiful things at less cost. She has just a few of each kind, but if it fits you — you've hit a goldmine. You think I'm kidding?

P.S. The Studio Players of Sierra Madre are presenting one of Thornton Wilder's finest plays at the rear of the Plaza patio in the new "Impromptu - Owl" from now through Saturday: "The Skin of Our Teeth."

It looks as if the spirit of "Our Town" is coming back again (pardon me, Thornton; I just couldn't resist it).

Former Resident Passed Away January 7

Mr. J. Morison Campbell died at his home at 1316 Carlton Drive, Glendale, on January 7 at the age of 92. He is survived by his wife, Nelle B. Campbell; a daughter, Mrs. F. E. Chapman of Glendale; three grandchildren, Mrs. M. W. Roman of Oklahoma City, Mr. Peter Vandercook and Mrs. Al Stoeffen of Chicago, and living in Oklahoma City.

three great-grandchildren living in Oklahoma City. Mr. Campbell was a native of Langham, Scotland, and resided for many years in Lombard, Illinois, where he was secretary-treasurer of Hibbard Spencer Bartlett Company of Chicago. The family came to California in 1923 and resided for many years in Sierra Madre where Mr. Campbell was prominent in civic affairs. Subsequently they move to Los Angeles and to Glendale where they have resided for the past 15 years and where Mr. Campbell became active in the insurance business. He retired from this several years ago, devoting his time to extensive reading and to his stamp collection upon which he had been working for more than 75 years at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary on September 24, 1962.

Wally Boyko, 53 Suffolk and Sierra Madre city engineer, has received word from his family in Minneapolis that he has become a grandfather for the first time! Wally's new grandson is now approximately 8 weeks old and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace Boyko of South Minneapolis. Wally also had a letter from his sister, Mrs. Ann Hatch that they all had Christmas day dinner and family gathering at the family home of Wally's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Boyko in Northeast Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simons of 201 Monte Vista Lane, became parents of their tenth child, Dec. 21, when a son was born to them, Dec. 21 at the Sierra Madre Community Hospital. He has been named Douglas Anthony Simons and weighed in at a healthy 9 lbs.

Douglas has six sisters and three brothers who welcomed him home. They are Pamela, 13, Nancy, 10, Jill, 9, Betsy, 8, Barbara, 5, Laurel, 2, and brothers, Jackie, 12, Jeffrey, 6, and Tim, 3½. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Warner of New Jersey. Mrs. Willard is the children's step-grandmother. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Harry Simons of Oakland.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James E. (Linda) McCoy of Pasadena, a daughter, Laure Ann, Monday night, Jan. 14 at the Huntington Memorial Hospital. She weighed 9 lbs. and 2½ oz.

Laure Ann is the first grandchild of Emmet Black of 477 N. Baldwin Ave. Her maternal grandmother is the late Mrs. Marjorie Ashmore Black.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. McCoy of Dallas, Texas, and her paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Erben Cook of Miami, Fla.

Foothill Area Cotillion Makes Plans For 1963; Virginia Gollatz, Director

Miss Virginia Gollatz, director of the Foothill Area Cotillion, met with chairmen for the 1963-64 session in the home of general chairman, Mrs. Elmer Steinkuhler, 1319 Oak Meadow Rd., Tuesday morning, Jan. 8, to make plans for the coming year. The Foothill Area Cotillion is an invitational ballroom dance group for children from the fourth grade through high school in Arcadia, Sierra Madre, Hastings Ranch and Monrovia, conducted by Miss Gollatz for more than 15 years. She gets a particular thrill when she now enrolls a child of a former student, she says. She is well known throughout Southern California with cotillion groups meeting in Altadena, Bakersfield, Newport Beach, Pasadena, Santa Ana and Ventura also.

Miss Gollatz is a graduate of UCLA with a major in psychology, and has traveled around the world more than once, learning dances native to those countries and introducing them to this country. She was a representative for the United States to the International Dance Festival in London by request of the Department of State in 1935.

Mr. and Mrs. James Martine will instruct the 63-64 session which will again be held in the Elks Club of Arcadia. They feel that dance lessons offer more than dancing skills and are a means to an end — namely, poise, good judgment, self-confidence and social etiquette. Therefore, great emphasis is placed on courtesy, correct social conduct and posture in addition to the currently popular ballroom dances. It is also a well known fact that boys with a good sense of rhythm and timing make better athletes.

Chairmen for the various groups are as follows: 4th and 5th grade beginners, Mrs. Ralph Sheffer; 5th and 6th grade advanced, Mrs. Boyd T. Marshall; 6th grade beginners, Mrs. T. H. Truesdell; 7th and 8th grade beginners, Mrs. Kenneth Dunford; 7th grade advanced, Mrs. James L. Saunders; 8th grade advanced, Mrs. Paul Mnoian; 9th grade advanced, Mrs. Bartling P. Andereg; and publicity chairman, Mrs. Carl J. Stauff.

SHARON LEE EASTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Eastin Announce Engagement of Daughter Sharon Lee

At a recent family gathering in their home, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Eastin of 113 W. Carter, Sierra Madre, made the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Lee, to George H. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wright of 1833 Oak View Lane, Arcadia.

The bride-elect will be a June graduate of the Pasadena High School. Her fiancé is a graduate of Arcadia High School, attended Pasadena City College and is presently employed at Consolidated Electrodynamics Corporation.

Included among the 22 present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Eastin, parents of the bride-elect; Mr. and Mrs. Larry R. Eastin, Snieri and Lucia, brother and sister-in-law and children, of bride-elect; Mr. and Mrs. Jess G. Graves, grandparents of the bride-elect; Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Randy and Mitch, cousins of bride-elect; Mrs. Anne Martin and escort, of bride-elect; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wright, Bob and Pat, parents, brother and sister of the bridegroom-elect, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Compton, cousins of the bridegroom-elect.

The family gathering was a birthday party honoring the bride-elect, her father's birthday on December 7 and her grandmothers, Mrs. Graves on December 14. Mr. Eastin made a champagne toast to the couple's happiness. The decorative cards of powder blue background with two miniature wedding bands intertwined, announcing the engagement of Sharon and George lined the table. The wedding date is set for mid-June.

Arcadia Womens Golf Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the year was held Tuesday by the Arcadia Women's Golf Club, which is usually held the first Tuesday of each month, after an exciting low-net competition play. Helen Shaw took the honor in the A flight with a neat low net of 50.

The B flight was wrapped up by Rosemarie Casebeer with 66-18-48. Ione Cavalier took the C flight with a 73-24-49. The Nassau Tournament slated for Tuesday, Jan. 22 looks like the red day for the month. Tee-off time is 9 to 10 each Tuesday.

Saturday, Jan. 19, is the first big day of the year for the Men's Club with a String Tournament, beginning the day with a free breakfast with Frenchy. The Men's Club of Arcadia Golf has scheduled a full year of activity which looks the best yet.

Mrs. James C. Greer, program chairman, announces that the program time will be taken up by the various chairmen who are getting their annual reports ready to go to the national headquarters in Washington, D.C., in February. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Edith Saunders, William N. Fuller and Mrs. A. S. Myers.

The Southern District Conference held at the U.S. Grant Hotel in San Diego on January 15 was attended by Mrs. Dorothy Baumbach, Esther Koch, Arthur Code and Eulalia Foft from the local chapter. Mr. Robert D. James speaking on "The Moment of Truth" gave the main address.

The Sierra Madre Chapter is combining with Encinitas Chapter of Monrovia, Santa Anita Chapter of Arcadia and the San Marino Chapter to entertain the State Regent, Mrs. Frank R. Mettlich and other state officers in the Woman's Civic Club of Pasadena at a noon luncheon on January 29, according to the Sierra Madre Chapter Regent, Mrs. Gwendolyn Becker.

Jewish Women's Club To Meet January 17

Hanukkah "loftas" (potato pancakes) must have taken their toll of the members of the Foothill Jewish Women's Club as January's meeting will feature a sepafer from Dialectician. The do's and don'ts of nutrition will be discussed following an 11:30 luncheon at the Foothill Temple - Center, 212 N. Lima, Sierra Madre, on Thursday, Jan. 17.

Speaker To Be Heard Jan. 19 On Landmarks

Of special importance to Arcadians and near communities will be the lecture to be given Saturday, Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. in the lecture room of the Arcadia Arboretum, Baldwin Ave. entrance by Mr. Burnett Turner who is the Architectural Historical Advisor for the State A.I.A. and the State Planning Board. Mr. Turner is presently director of the Plaza Restoration in Los Angeles, also was formerly on the Restoration Project of the Santa Anita Rancho at the Arboretum.

Party To Honor Creative Arts Group Leaders

The Creative Arts Group Board of Directors will host a dessert party in honor of the workshop leaders preceding the open house on Friday evening, Jan. 18. The home of Dr. and Mrs. William Stewart will be specially decorated for the occasion by Lannea Melzian and Evelyn Hawkins of the Creative Arts Group.

On the list of guests of honor are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hill, Miss Shirley Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. Marlen Rabinoff, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Safford, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Tann, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wexler, Mr. Howard Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Whiteside, and Mr. and Mrs. Jirayr Zorthian.

Hosts will also include Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morse, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Wallace, Dr. and Mrs. Kurt Gunther, and Mr. and Mrs. John Keville. Following dessert, the party will join the festivities at the open house at the Creative Arts Group Abode at 37 E. Montecito St. in Sierra Madre to which the public is invited from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Fred Wesley Host At Luncheon

Fred Wesley, young editor and publisher of the Sierra Madre Weekly Gazette, was holiday luncheon host at the Headliner to Eloise Parker, Classified Advertising Manager of the Sierra Madre News; Martha Sharp, Society Editor of the News and Bobbie Swetnam of Pomona.

Bobbie and Fred became close friends when Fred and his family lived in Pomona and both boys attended the Westmont School.

Creative Arts Group To Hold Open House

The Foothill Creative Arts Group Open House on Friday, Jan. 18, will be held from 7:30 to 10 at the Adobe at 37 E. Montecito St. in Sierra Madre. Work of children's and adult workshops will be exhibited and there will be informal folk singing by the guitar group. Sponsors for the Creative Arts Group headed by Mrs. Kurt Gunther and assisted by Mrs. Craig Williams will be hostesses for the evening.

Display of the glass fusing and the copper on enamel workshops which have been directed by Curtis Tann is a new feature this year. A variety of pottery pieces showing the use of coil, slab and thrown techniques will be shown by the students of Joan Harness Hill. Lee Wexler's drawing workshop will feature studies in egg tempera as well as a series of black and white drawings.

Two children's art workshops will have their creations on display. The five-to-eight year olds have been directed by Mary Wallace and include Jill O'Keefe, Kaia Hedlund, Sari Segemiller, Charles Ames, Jan Copley, Molly Jo Kusik, Eric Skarin, David Watkins, Jamie McCoy, Paul Spiegel, Nancy Snerer, and Mark Miller. The nine-to-twelve year old workshop led by Jane Morse includes John Watkins, Resa Valos, Karen Williams, Joan Burton, Stephanie Struthers, Janet Gosline, Karen Diddy, Ricky Davies, Greg Cope, and Ann Sheffer.

The Foothill Creative Arts Group is a non-profit organization offering many kinds of art activities with stress on the creative approach. New workshops which will be added in the spring session beginning Feb. 11 are pottery for children led by Joan Harness Hill and recorder playing under the direction of Shirley Marcus.

Brochures describing all 14 spring workshops will be available at the open house. For further information you may write Box 836, Arcadia, or phone 356-1450 Monday through Friday between 10 and 2.

Hastings Ranch Garden Club Meets Jan. 22

The January meeting of the Hastings Ranch Garden Club will be held Tuesday, Jan. 22, at 12 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mildred Colwell, 365 Hastings Ranch Drive, Mrs. Wilson Wight, co-hostess.

Following a salad luncheon and business meeting, Mrs. Anthony Alfredo, program chairman, will introduce the speaker, Mrs. Sylvia Leatherman, whose subject will be "Landscaping With Ferns." She will also talk on the use of insecticides and furnish door prizes.

The following new members have been welcomed into the club: Mrs. Frank Desche, Mrs. Cliff Grassly, and Mrs. John Copland.

Byzantine Art Exhibit At LaSalle School

The La Salle High School Fine Arts Forum will present an exhibit of icons during the week of January 11-20, to coincide with the Christian Unity octave and the Byzantine Mass to be held at La Salle, Jan. 18. The exhibit, titled "The Christ of Byzantium," will feature reproductions from the Deesis Cycle, and from the Ostroukov and Rialushinsky collections.

Icons are religious paintings of the Eastern Catholic and Orthodox Church, done mainly on wood and metal, and are singularized by the exaggerated facial features.

Nursery Education Meeting Open To Public

The Association for Nursery Education, Foothill Area, and the San Gabriel Valley Cooperative Council will present Dr. Owen Morgan, director of Parent Education Leadership Training Project, Pacific Oaks.

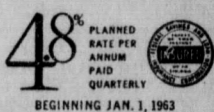

Dr. Morgan, formerly of Merrill-Palmer, Detroit, will have as his topic "Our Challenge — Developing the Child's Confidence and Sense of Responsibility." This meeting is open to the public and will be held in the Arcadia Methodist Hospital Auditorium, 300 W. Huntington Drive, Arcadia, Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 8 p.m.

All Contemporary Program Feb. 2

For the first time in its long history, the Pasadena Symphony has planned an all contemporary program featuring soprano soloist Marni Nixon, on Feb. 2 at 8:20 in the Pasadena Civic Auditorium.

Free tickets for the Feb. 2 concert are available by stamped, addressed envelope, if received in the Pasadena Symphony office at 181 S. Los Robles by Jan. 26. The box office at the Civic Auditorium will be open from 9 a.m. to 8:20 p.m. the day of the concert.

Tax Facts Concerning Los Angeles County As Expressed by Dr. Felix J. Weil Series

Supervisors Should Create Tax Appeals Boards Now

Part II
Last week I dealt with three of the four arguments advanced by some of the supervisors as reasons for their sudden misgivings about the tax appeals boards. Argument (4) is, in my opinion, the real point.

According to the reported version, the supervisors expect that under the new assessor's policy the big increase of assessments in selected areas only every five years will be replaced by small increases in the whole county every year.

Allegedly, the supervisors want to see how this slow change will work out before creating the new appeals machinery.

But I have reasons to believe that in reality their feelings are quite different.

They have discovered that the new assessor is no politician in the usual sense; though elected for a four-year term he still intends to put his program into effect, every word of it. He stated often enough he will introduce a fairer assessment procedure, and will insist on it even if the taxing agencies have to raise the tax rate.

No wonder the supervisors grow apprehensive. They fear that instead of slight annual increases the assessor will end up with a general lowering of the tax base.

This would indeed force them to increase the tax rate—an act they would not like at all after so many years of hiding behind the assessor while supposedly "holding the line on taxes."

I do not believe their fears are warranted. However, setting the assessment level is the assessor's sole responsibility and prerogative. If he really planned a diminution of assessments, no one could do anything about it.

And if the supervisors really hoped that by their continuing as board of equalization they could curb the assessor's tendency to lower the assessment level, I would call this an illusion.

As the county board of equalization, the supervisors may order individual assessments raised on their own initiative (Allison Ranch Mining Co. v. Nevada County, 104 Cal. 161).

But such an order must be preceded by a written five-day notice to "show cause why said assessment shall not be increased" at a hearing held for this purpose.

To counteract—at least somewhat—the assessor's alleged tendency to lower the general assessment level, many hundreds of thousands of individual show cause orders would be needed.

But at a "lavish" three minutes per case, only 4,960 hearings could be held in the 31 working days maximum of the equalization period.

These figures show how futile it would be for the supervisors to attempt countering the assessor's procedural policy by applying their powers as board of equalization.

In the election campaign two good reasons were cited in favor of the tax appeals boards:

The first, stressed by the supervisors themselves: that only thereby could due process of law be restored to the taxpayers.

The second, stressed by the organizations supporting Proposition 15: that board members would consider each case on its merits alone, instead of being influenced, as the supervisors ore necessarily were, by the responsibility of protecting the county's revenue.

A third reason could today be added: the supervisors may find it politically advisable to disassociate themselves from the results of the new assessor's policy. Indeed, I think they should. This could best be done by avoiding the semblance of co-responsibility which might result from their continuing in the equalization function.

In conclusion: No property owner would understand if the supervisors suddenly availed themselves of the "permissive" clause never mentioned in the promotion of Proposition 15.

As a matter of fact, in his official statement of October 10, 1962, Mr. Debs, as chairman of the board of supervisors, pledged in their name (except Mr. Hahn's): "If Proposition 15 is passed . . . we will . . . we intend . . ."

For instance, "We will make no 'political' appointments" and "we intend to create five tax appeals boards." Nowhere was there the slightest hint that they means "we might make no appointments at all" and we intend—unless we change our mind—to create . . .

Proposition 15 was explained to the voters as a "good government" measure for immediate relief of inequity.

They would have been less concerned, if at all, had it been represented as something the supervisors might or might not want to put into effect.

According to the final tabulation, Proposition 15 passed by a majority of 57.7 per cent in Los Angeles county, or 53.8 per cent in all of California. This, in my opinion, amounts to a mandate from the Los Angeles County voters for the supervisors to establish the tax appeals boards now, not some time later—or never.

A draft ordinance creating five tax appeals boards is now supposed to be before the supervisors. Should they table it, I would not be surprised if many voters would deem the supervisors' breach of trust.

Of course, tax appeals boards alone are not likely to be a decisive political issue. But some voters have long memories, and three of the supervisors will soon be up for re-election.

16MM Film Now Available
The story of California's modern agriculture is featured in a 28-minute film, "This Wonderful Land," presented by Bank of America.

Made available as a public service, the 16mm sound film is suitable for schools, business, service and social groups. It tells the story of California's farming industry as it appears to a city boy visiting a farm for the first time.

Numerous farm problems are dealt with, and the interdependence of the farm and city is strongly demonstrated, showing marketing procedures, and the important role of water for both farm and urban areas.

Utilizing a locale in the Central Valley, the film has scenes of typical crop and livestock enterprises.

Dog Training Classes Held

The Santa Anita Dog Training Group will get its second Saturday afternoon class of the winter season under way in Arcadia County Park on Saturday, January 19, at 12 noon. These afternoon classes are very popular at this time of the year.

Any dog five months or older may be enrolled. These classes consist of basic training as well as taking care of problems such as barking, chewing, housebreaking, etc. For further information, please call Hillcrest 6-6858 or Elliott 9-1481.

Hospital Aux To Meet On February 1

The Auxiliary of the Sierra Madre Community Hospital will hold their first general meeting of the new year on Friday, Feb. 1 at the home of Mrs. Jack J. Tilley, 130 Rancho Road, Sierra Madre. All members are urged to attend this most important meeting. Social activities and hospital projects for the coming year will be announced.

Dr. Thomas R. Pickren, president, and chief of staff at the Sierra Madre Community Hospital will be guests speaker and will show a film furnished by the cancer society.

Coffee and dessert will be served.

Concert For Children Jan. 27

Musicians of the San Gabriel Valley are already marking their calendars for the January 27 annual Children's Concert to be presented on that Sunday afternoon, in the Monrovia High School auditorium, 845 W. Colorado Blvd., Monrovia, at 3 p.m. This concert, planned and presented especially for children, is given only once a year.

License Fees Distributed To Cities

California's cities and counties shared $9,753,558 in the most recent apportionment of revenue from State motor vehicle license fees, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today.

The apportionment represents revenue from fees collected from June 1 to November 30, 1962. It is the first and smallest of three apportionments to be made during the 1962-63 fiscal year. Larger apportionments will be made in April and June. Sierra Madre received $4,121,111.

To Sponsor Byzantine Liturgy

La Salle High School will sponsor a Byzantine Liturgy-Mass at 11 a.m. on January 18. The Mass, of the Syrian-Melkite Byzantine rite, will be celebrated by Father R. Mardell, the pastor of St. Anne's Melkite Catholic Church in Los Angeles, with the Bob Mitchell Boys' Choir singing the responses.

The Mass is being celebrated for La Salle students, their parents and friends, and will begin with a talk at 10:30 a.m. The Liturgy proper will begin at 11 a.m.

Albert Westhafer Given Promotion

Albert L. Westhafer, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Westhafer, 75 W. Bonita Avenue, Sierra Madre, recently was promoted to specialist five in Germany, where he is a member of the 4th Transportation Company.

Specialist Westhafer, a crew chief in the company in Hanau, entered the Army in October, 1958, and arrived overseas last March.

He is a 1957 graduate of Pasadena High School and attended Pasadena City College.

Dennis Ower Assigned To Amarillo, Texas

Airman Basic Dennis W. Ower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Ower, 481 Mariopos Ave., Sierra Madre, is being reassigned to Amarillo AFB, Texas, for technical training as a United States Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist.

Airman Ower, who completed the first phase of his military training at Lackland AFB, was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes.

He is a 1962 graduate of Pasadena High School.

shoot big game, wear pants, smoke, drink, vote and have learned to read and write. We wonder have they earned the right to stand up and give me their seat in a crowded bus?"

Further, we also doubt that there is any truth in the claim that all roads in Russia turn left, but we do know that this is the middle of January and this month will soon be behind us and we can turn our thoughts to the surge of business for the balance of the year.

In closing this weeks chit chat, I would like to relate another story concerning the small compact cars.

Seems that two hard working engineers of Sierra Engineering Company had each purchased themselves one of the new compact cars and had asked that the salesman have the cars delivered to the plant at 4 o'clock the next day.

The salesman had fulfilled the request, and upon leaving the cars at the front curb ahead of time, took the keys into the office and departed for other prospects.

The shift being completed, each of the engineers rushed into the office to pick up their keys and dashing for their respective cars at the curb.

The following conversation was heard by Harry Daulton; after each had inspected his purchase: "Say, Joe," says Tom, upon raising the hood of his car, "someone has stolen the motor out of my car while it was parked here."

Tom who had just raised the trunk lid of his car called back, "That's all right Tom, they have put an extra one in my trunk."

Sometimes, that's the way the wind blows. It is really too late to do much about it this year, but next year we plan to have a nice balance saved up for Christmas. We thought we had it made this year, but nothing happened.

I was notified by mail that the Bank of America was sending out thousands of dollars in annual Christmas checks, and a few days later the First Western sent us a news story about the hundreds of checks they were dispatching in time for Christmas.

Anxiously we awaited each incoming mail. I thought surely that the letter E would be among the first to be considered. Guess that I have not been here long enough so as the year goes forth I will be anxiously awaiting for the Christmas Checks to be sent out next year, and do feel that I will be on the list, I hope, I hope, I hope.

The first, stressed by the supervisors themselves: that only thereby could due process of law be restored to the taxpayers.

The second, stressed by the organizations supporting Proposition 15: that board members would consider each case on its merits alone, instead of being influenced, as the supervisors

Dolores Thill Bowling Champ

Sierra Madre has its own champion lady bowler and she has a handsome trophy to prove it with the inscription of "Ladies Match Game Champ of 1962."

The young lady champ is Dolores Thill, accounts clerk at the Sierra Madre Water department, who lives at 59 E. Grand View Ave. Twenty-two women from San Gabriel Valley competed in a four week elimination and made their last play off at the Tournament Special, Dec. 16 in a matched game championship at San Gabriel Bowling Lanes.

Dolores made a total of 1018 on a four game play.

Her trophy is a satin finish brown wood of modernistic design with a gold colored statuette in bowling form across the top of the frame and on the base are gold colored crossed pins atop a bowling ball.
 Dolores will enter the California State Bowling Tournament to be held at Long Beach in March.

By motion and adoption the Fire Department was given permission, and costs noted, in changing from 20 regular members and 10 auxiliary members to 30 regular members.

The Council went on record as recognizing Education week of January 20-26 and encouraged attendance at the Nursery classroom during this period.
 Dr. Dave Wood was complimented on his action at the District meeting of January 9, and due to the insistence of Mayor Vannic did not offer his resignation at that time. The Council went on record in complimenting him for his position and asked that he continue to represent them, as it is their firm feeling that he is the most logical, and most effective, individual to their knowledge to deal and negotiate with MWD for the future of our city and its water supply. Since the resignation was not presented it is the Council's hope that he continues to represent them.

The Seeds of Fascism

Some thoughtful people have expressed a fear that a form of Fascism may, in time, reach power in this country. If it ever does, it will be the evolutionary consummation of a trend which has been subtly and insidiously undermining free institutions for many years.

The matter is not an easy one to discuss with any precision. For one thing, the meaning of words often tends to blur, and the problems and situation they are intended to describe often lose contrast. One totalitarian state — whether it be called Fascist, Communist, or anything else — is very much like another in its fundamentals.

That aside, the causes of Fascism, and the tools which are used to create it, are spotlighted by history. The technique is to bring about a marriage of the instruments of power in a nation — its government, its industries, and its labor in cases where the unions are strong and wield vast influence. The ambitious leader uses these instruments with the utmost care — and the utmost cynicism — to achieve his purpose. He woos industry, by convincing it that by going along with him it will achieve an advantage over labor. And he woos labor with precisely the same siren song in reverse.

The stage is set for Fascism — or totalitarianism of any kind — when the resources of a nation become overly dependent on its government. And, certainly, we have moved far in that direction. The government is the principal customer of many huge companies. Beyond that, government, by its laws and regulations, its bureaucracies, its thousand and one departments and agencies, and its own business operations, plays a dominant role in the life of the nation that would have seemed both impossible and intolerable even half a century ago.

Wars — hot and cold — past, present and possible — have been enormous forces in producing this trend. A fifty-odd billion dollar defense budget alone is a continuing threat to fundamental liberties. All we can do about this is to minimize that threat in every way possible, by working to prevent government domination of our lives in every area where the national security does not clearly demand it.

Beyond this, the Fascist danger lies in areas which have no connection with our safety in a chaotic world. These areas we describe with a general term — the welfare state. This, carried to its logical conclusion, is a state in which government is all things to all men, offering a dubious cradle-to-the-grave security. The cost in dollars — tax dollars — is exceeded only by the costs in loss of liberty, self-reliance, and individual pride and responsibility.

So the seeds of totalitarianism exist. Only an informed and determined public, dedicated like its forebears to the principles of freedom, can make sure that they will not sprout into choking weeds.

Number One State

A population of 6,511,000 for Los Angeles County on January 1, 1963, was estimated today by California Taxpayers' Association. Since the April 1960 Census was taken the County has increased by 472,229 or 7.8 per cent.

The Association's estimate of state-wide population was 17,380,000, which appears to confirm the claim that California has passed New York State in population and become number one among the States. The increase in California population since the 1960 Census has been 1,662,796. During the past year the State's population has increased by 624,000 from the Association's revised estimate of 16,756,000 for January 1, 1962.

Counties in which the Association's study disclosed increases of more than 50,000 since the 1960 Census are: Alameda 83,091 increase, Contra Costa 50,270 increase, Los Angeles 472,229 increase, Orange 179,575, Sacramento 72,822, San Bernardino 52,409, San Diego 96,989, San Mateo 55,713, Santa Barbara 50,438 and Santa Clara 153,385.

Percentage-wise the greatest increase in population, in the period since the Census, occurred in Santa Barbara County which increased 29.9 per cent. Orange, Ventura and Santa Clara Counties followed close behind with increases of 25.5 per cent, 24.8 per cent and 23.9 per cent respectively. Other counties showing substantial increases since the 1960 Census are: Ed Dorado 21.3 per cent, Kings 23.5 per cent, Lake 15.3 per cent, Placer 17.2 per cent, Santa Cruz 15.2 per cent and Yuba 19 per cent.

Only six counties have decreased in population since the 1960 Census according to the Association's studies. These counties are: Alpine, Del Norte, Mendocino, Modoc, Trinity and Tuolumne.

"The explosive population growth which has skyrocketed our State to the top of the list has brought with it a whole bagful of related problems," commented Sheffield J. Arnold, the Association's Executive Director. "The manner in which California solves its growth problems will determine the 'goodness' or 'badness' of our State as a place in which to live and to work. We can neither fail to meet legitimate needs for essential public services or tolerate continued runaway taxation."

Everybody reads their hometown weekly newspapers. They know what is going on in the town but want to see who was caught at it!

It is encouraging to see all of the Communist newspapers, magazines and news media throughout the world attacking the Peace Corps. No other thing would further our belief that it is effectively countering Communist measures.

Freedom At Any Price

Crystal gazers and forecasters are now in season. Many of these prognosticators will have their crystal balls blurred by preconceived political convictions leaning either to the right or to the left. Being fully aware of the calculated risk that accompanies such predictions, this columnist, in as objective a way as possible, will dare to place himself out on the well known limb.

Chameleon-like writer, Joseph Alsop, recently said that, "the next 12 months will tend to be dominated by events resulting, directly or indirectly, from the deepening rupture between Communist China and the Soviet Union."

"Freedom At Any Price" foresees the next 12 months as a period utilized by Russian, Chinese, and American Communists, as well as Socialists, one-worlders, and neutrals, to convince the American people that the Sino-Soviet split is deepening and will erupt into a gap so wide that China and Russia will find themselves at swordpoints.

This drum beating will finally reach a crescendo by pointing out loud and clear that these two Communist Goliaths will surely clash over their ideological differences unless we can control them. And what means of control will be presented as the only guarantee of "peace?"

The magic solution will be to give Communist China a seat in the United Nations. This line of propaganda will be intended for the pacifistic segment of America. Communist sources will rely heavily on this group, reasoning that, by such action, this still drowsy but rapidly awakening Chinese mammoth can easily be civilized into a world family, dedicated to peace and freedom.

If it were not for the irreparable damage wrought by such deceptive thought manipulation, we could pass this twisted piece of thinking off as the joke of the century. However, let us hold our lighter moments for clowns or fools and let us not be deceived by murderers.

"The Americans of a more skeptical, aggressive nature will be given the balance of power treatment. They will be assured that, once Red China gets into the United Nations, Russia will be antagonized by Chinese actions stemming from the great differences in their two types of Communism and, as a result, the free world block can easily hold the balance of power. Here again, it sounds good but it just isn't true. When the deceptive haze of ideological dissonance is penetrated, the Soviet Union and Red China agree on well over 90 per cent of world issues. A rift between conspiratorial partners does not necessarily constitute grounds for sound future policy.

The old, shopworn but effective Communist inspired cry of the inevitability of Red China's entrance into the U.N. will be mingled with pleas from so-called neutral countries who in the past have been eager to latch onto American dollars in the form of foreign aid but who have refused to raise a finger to stop the world conspiracy of Communism.

India will lead the neutralist block in demanding the inclusion of Red China into the United Nations even though her boundaries have been violated by these same Chinese Communists. This fact will not only be used by the Communists to further their own purpose but also by liberal commentators across the United States to indicate the sincerity of the neutrals in their quest for world peace.

A very logical reason for Nehru's stand concerning a seat for Red China is his awareness that China's entrance into the U.N. would bring about sanctions against Mao's government, which would curb China's aggressive action toward India.

If these sanctions should fail to halt the Chinese, then Mr. Nehru would be guaranteed either U.S. financed United Nations' help or stepped-up U.S. Aid.

If Red China should ever be allowed a seat in the United Nations, the deep ideological gap, for all practical purposes would heal into a united world Communist front bent upon total control of the free world.

Let the United States not find itself playing the role of an appeaser or, in other words, "one who feeds a crocodile — hoping that it will eat him last."

Winston Churchill once said: "The public can face peril with fortitude and even buoyancy, but they bitterly resent finding that those responsible for their safety are themselves living in a fool's paradise." May our representatives, both elected and appointed, recognize Communist deception.

Hermit of The Sierra Madre with Den Murray
Of the Hermit, I asked, "I'd like to have your thoughts on the Domestic Peace Corps."

"A splendid project," enthused the old man. "As long as we can afford to send our young people all over the globe showing backward foreigners how to dig latrines, boil water, spray swamps and otherwise multiply their already exploding populations — we might as well do some of that do-gooding at home. Helps keep some of our money at home."

"Yes, but do you really think it will accomplish any big success?"

"Since when did anyone start judging New Frontier projects by their success? They're only judged by their good intentions and price tag. On that basis — this one should do right well."

"It takes time to make progress in these lofty schemes," I pointed out. "No take the Alliance For Progress."

"Oh yes," brightened the Hermit, "what happened to that?"

"Bobby Kennedy has just returned from a secret huddle with President Goulart of Brazil."

"Well I'll have to concede that any flight from the country Bobby makes marks progress," said the old man. "Though you say he's back."

"Yes, he's back. Seems like the Meredith case in Mississippi is again demanding his attention."

"Well just so it doesn't demand mobilization and maintenance of 25,000 troops — I'll settle."

"It won't," I reported. "There are only 300 soldiers on the job now. And besides, Meredith has decided to quit school."

"Maybe Bobby intends to get him transferred to Harvard," mused the Hermit. "Judging from the amount of money he's cost the taxpayers of this country — young Mr. Meredith ought to make an ideal Harvard man."

Edward Lugo Given School Recognition
Word was received here this past week that Edward A. Lugo of 118 Suffolk Ave. has been recommended from his campus for recognition in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. His recommendation was accepted on December 3.

In closing the notification of acceptance the announcement stated: "We hope that you will consider this recognition a small reward for work well done and an encouragement for the future."

Metropolitan sewer plan was explained by Engineer A. K. Warren at the Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night.

Sierra Madre is located in district No. 7, which includes 13 municipalities and a considerable amount of unincorporated territory in the San Gabriel Valley. This district will vote as a whole on Jan. 26 on the issuance of $4,400,000 in bonds. This amount will provide a network of trunk lines throughout the district with a main trunk line to reach the treatment plant near Compton and will bear the district's share of the cost of the ocean outfall line to White's Point and 2300 feet at sea.

These bonds, thus, provide only for a disposal system. It will be necessary for each municipality to provide its own system of local mains to connect with these trunk lines. Maximum cost to the taxpayers will be 28 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. This will decrease from year to year as the 40 year bonds are retired and interest charges decrease.

A son, Blake, weighing 9 lbs., 5 ozs., was born Friday in St. Luke's Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nuetzel, 609 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. Blake is the Nuetzel's sixth child. His brothers and sisters are Freddie, Gary, Gregory, Pamela and Holly.

numeral dialing we will find it just as easy if not easier than telephone dialing by a mixture of letters and numbers. At least, I am finding it simpler, though I, too, rebelled against it at first. Through years of the letter-numeral combination the telephone company has been spending money for advertisements urging Mr. Bumble to look up his numbers instead of dialing from memory, clearly indicating that the old system was far from satisfactory. The simple fact is that anyone who doesn't have a telephone number firmly in his head had better look it up or he is sure to be a Mr. Bumble, and it's no great task to write down numbers you wish to be sure of until you can be sure of them without such a list. . . . And apparently the telephone company isn't changing the dialing at all in many cases if not in most. At least, my old number was Skyline 5-4602, my new number is 755-4602, and to dial SK5 I punch exactly the same keys I did before. But most of us like to find fault with any change we haven't thought of ourselves.

All candidates in the recent election promised to be men of action, and it's inspiring to see how many of those sworn in last week made good by immediately appointing their wives and children as secretaries of assistants at more money than they could earn elsewhere.

The C. D. Shields family, 282 Santa Anita Court, had as a visitor, an old friend, Sgt. I. Montplaisir of the 6th U.S. Marines. Sgt. Montplaisir has been with the Marine Corps for 17 years and has seen service in Panama, Central America and more recently in Iceland and the Solomon Islands. His 30 day furlough from the South Pacific area is about up, and he will report back for duty shortly.

'YOUR CITY AND MINE'

FIFTH ARTICLE ON FUTURE WATER SUPPLY

This article will attempt to spell out the same step by step procedure for use of State Water as was described for MWD last week.

A contract reserving 25,000 acre feet of State Feather River Water per year for the San Gabriel Valley Municipal Water District has been signed by the District and State. The following are the steps necessary if this water is to be brought from the East Branch of the State Aqueduct to Sierra Madre.

Bonds in the amount of 17 to 20 million dollars would need to be voted by a two-thirds majority of the voters of the four cities to construct a 29-mile main pipe line from north of San Bernardino to just north of Azusa, to construct spreading facilities to percolate the water underground and to construct a well field in the San Gabriel Valley, and approximately 15 miles of transmission lines from the well field to the four cities.

Easements for the necessary right-of-way would need to be obtained over the entire route either for use of city streets from the cities or across private land, where necessary for construction of the pipe lines. Land would need to be purchased for the spreading grounds and for the placement of the well field.

The entire system would need to be engineered, bids taken and the main line, transmission lines, spreading grounds and well field constructed.

In addition to the actual physical construction of these items, the District would also need to obtain a permit from the State Water Rights Board for permission to use the underground basin for storage. It would also appear that some legislation would be needed from the State Legislature to make certain that the amount of water spread into the basin could be repumped by the cities and that other pumps in the basin who are not contributing supplemental water couldn't pump out the water.

This matter of a supplemental supply is now moving away from explanatory articles to front page news so we will next week return

SIERRA MADRE NEWS—9

Employment Up For Year End Requirement

Total employment in the Los Angeles-Long Beach-Orange County Area, continuing its upward trend which started early in 1962, advanced from 2,944,900 in November to a record 2,979,200 in December, Irving H. Perluss, Director of Employment, announced today. At the same time, joblessness in the two-county area declined from 158,200 in November to 152,300 in December.

The December total exceeded the year-earlier employment level by 125,200, an increase of 4.4 per cent. All major industry divisions, except agriculture, were ahead of the same month last year.

Reflecting the year-end employment requirements, unemployment declined from 158,200 in November to 152,300 in December. The rate of unemployment moved downward from 5.1 per cent in November to 4.9 per cent in December. Last December, the unemployed numbered 164,000, or 5.4 per cent of the civilian labor force.

Other phases of the city operation. When some special information must be presented in the future, we'll return to this most complicated but important subject of assuring that Sierra Madre will have water for its present and future population.

Income Tax School Jan. 21

Monrovia Evening High School will begin a new class on Monday, Jan. 21, in the Principles of Federal and State Income Tax Procedure. The class will meet each Monday evening from 7 to 9:30 p.m., in Room 22, Arts Building, Monrovia High School. Mr. William S. Bailey will conduct the class.

This course will continue for eight weeks, and Mr. Bailey states that it is geared primarily for the wage-earner and the small business man.

For further information, call the Adult Education office, EL 8-8124 or EL 8-2551.

make excellent member material because they were strong, lightweight, relatively inexpensive and easy to work with. Automatic locking elbows were developed as were standard parts for terminal devices, all of which could be mass produced instead of fashioned by hand. The aircraft industry contributed a component to the development of a flexible cable to replace the standard thong and pulley. This application quickly became standard in the art and was, until now, the only power transmission or control system in use.

Even with new materials and methods, the limitations of upper extremity prostheses were still great. Several different body movements had to be made either separately or in combination in order to control them. One of these was an unnatural and difficult motion which had to be mastered by the patient in order to lock or unlock his elbow mechanism. Every control motion meant mastering a rather pronounced movement in the shoulder and chest. The ability of a person to achieve the best use of his prosthesis was determined by two factors—force and excursion. Force is the power of the amputee is able to exert to operate either his terminal device (hook or hand), or to move his elbow, or both. Excursion is the distance he can shrug or move his body or expand his chest or move other muscles to effect a total movement of the prosthesis.

During the past 10 years, efforts have been made to add supplementary power to the prosthetic system. A number of ventures in this field have been made by private industry and government agencies in the U.S. Foreign governments have also tried to develop a powered prosthesis. Until recently all efforts had met with limited success.

The gas powered prosthesis developed by Sierra Engineering is now commercially available. It operates on compressed carbon dioxide (CO₂) gas, the same gas used for carbonated beverages and fire extinguishers.

The new prosthesis is suspended by the shoulder harness normally worn by most amputees. It is controlled by several miniature pressure valves attached to the harness. Carbon dioxide gas is fed from a small tank through lightweight, flexible tubes to the various control valves. These, in turn, meter the gas to a piston operated mechanism which transforms the energy of the gas into mechanical motion.

The advantages of the gas powered prosthesis are immediately evident when comparisons are made between it and conventional cable operated arms. Three-and-a-half inches of motion and from 15 to 40 pounds of force are required to achieve complete operation of cable operated arms.

The gas powered prosthesis, on the other hand, requires a maximum of 2 pounds of force and only 5/8 inch excursion to operate the elbow, and a mere 12 ounces of force and 3/16 inch excursion to operate the terminal device (hook or hand). In other words, about 1/7th as much effort is needed to operate the Sierra prosthesis compared to a conventional cable operated prosthesis.

Even as the first major breakthrough in powered prostheses becomes a fact, the challenge to improve on their initial success is spurring Sierra Engineering technicians on. It is conceivable that electronics will enter the prosthetic field soon to add even greater control and natural flexibility to what was once a clumsy, makeshift substitute for arms.

A big step has been taken when a man with an artificial arm can light his cigarette as naturally as if his arm and hand were flesh and blood.

The promise of the future is even greater.

Lesson-Sermon To Be 'Life'

The Apostle Luke's inspiring account of the raising of the widow's son from the dead will be heard at Christian Science services Sunday. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Life."

The Golden Text is from Matthew (4:4): "It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this selection (p. 547): "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained." And continuing on the same page: "It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

Week of Prayer To Be Observed By Ascension

In union with all Christians, the annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will be observed at the Church of the Ascension, beginning Friday, Jan. 18, and continuing to Friday, Jan. 25.

The general intention for the week is "That they all may be one." (St. John 17:21). Daily intentions will be based upon development of the general theme. The list of intentions may be obtained at the church.

The Parents' Club will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall. Dessert and coffee will be served during the social hour which precedes the talk of "Youth and Narcotics Problem," given by the Los Angeles Sheriff's office. Members of Parents' Club as well as those interested in the school are invited to attend.

This meeting will be restricted to adults, as announced by president, John S. Torrey.

The Senior Episcopal Young Churchmen are sponsoring a car wash on Saturday, Jan. 26, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. on the Laurel Ave. side of the church. Cars will be washed for 75 cents, and, if need be, license plates put on free of charge.

Proceeds from the car wash will go towards the Father Crane Memorial Chapel, Sendai, Japan. Advance notice is also being given of a Bake Sale to be held on Sunday, Feb. 3, sponsored by the E.Y.C. Baked goods will be available for sale following each of the Masses. Proceeds will go to the Japan Mission.

The Episcopal Young Churchmen are under the leadership of the Rev. James H. Miller, advisor for the group, and president, Alan Hartley.

The Evening Study Group will meet Monday, Jan. 21, at 7:45 p.m. to continue its discussion of the Old Testament, based upon "He Came Unto His Own," by Jonathan Graham, Community of the Resurrection. The Rev. James H. Miller will lead the discussion.

Theological Education Sunday will be observed at the Church of the Ascension on Sunday, Jan. 27.

The special offerings made on that day will go towards support of Nashotah House, Nashotah, Wisconsin, where future priests are being trained for Holy Orders.

Rev. Hansen Announces Third In Series

"When a feller needs a friend is always" said the Rev. Ray E. Hansen in announcing the third in a series of sermons on "Great Gifts From God." The message at 10:10 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 20, will be "The Gift of Friendship."

"What a Friend We Have In Jesus" will be the pulpit hymn, the pastor noted, and it points up the idea of the day's worship. "When we realize that Christ is our constant companion and friend, we can do all things through Him, who strengthens us," he said. "We also learn that we are never completely alone in life."

Antiphon by the Chancel Choir will be "Give Thanks Unto the Lord," by Tkach, with Charles E. Markham directing and Norman Lunt at the organ.

Sunday school for children and youths, along with the adult Bible study of Mark's Gospel, is at 9 a.m.

A class of instruction for adults interested in the Christian faith is offered in duplicate identical sessions at 7 p.m. Sundays and 7 p.m. Wednesdays at the church. Attendance leads to membership in the congregation. New members will be received Sunday, Feb. 24.

The Compassion Of Christ Revealed Jan. 20

"The Compassion of Christ Revealed" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. Armin Hesse in the 8 and 10:30 Sunday morning worship services of Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive.

This message, the second in the pastor's Epiphany series on the theme "The Revelation of Christ's Glory," will center on the Biblical record of St. Matthew 9:35-38. The Sunday school and Bible classes for various ages will meet at 9:15.

Next week's parish schedule lists: Senior Confirmation Study class on Wednesday at 4, with the Junior Class on Thursday at 4; Junior Choir on Thursday at 7, followed by the Senior Choir at 8; the L.W.M.L. Altar Guild on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.; and the second session of the Pastor's Adult Membership Study Class on Thursday night at 8.

Preparations are under way for the sacred concert of the Concordia Chorists of Oakland, Calif., to be given in the church sanctuary on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 27, at 3:30. The 36-voice chorus, directed by Prof. Hugo Gehrke, represents the California Concordia College of Oakland, one of the pre-ministerial and teacher training colleges of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

Rev. Swengel Announces Sermon Topic

"Pretzels and Prayer" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Clinton Swengel at the Sierra Madre Methodist Church this coming Sunday morning in both worship services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Do you remember how pretzels first came to be made? and the direct relationship to children and prayer? Rev. Swengel will tell of this and describe the life-changing power in prayer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Worden will lead the Chancel Choir in a beautiful anthem with Mrs. Catherine Kirk at the organ.

Rev. Swengel points out to members of the congregation that there are a few copies of the souvenir magazine "Together" still available on a first come-first served basis.

Bethany Notes

The annual business meeting of the congregation of Bethany Church of Sierra Madre will take place this Friday, Jan. 18 in the church sanctuary. Reports will be given from the boards and committees, the annual budget will be approved and some 30 people will be elected to fill offices in the church.

Dr. Robert N. Schaper, pastor will bring his annual message on the state of the church at this time. Following this report the congregation will enjoy a fellowship time in the church social hall.

The church is beginning this week a $5000 renovation of the church offices located in the Educational Building which fronts on Baldwin. The major consideration is the heating, wiring and redecoration of existing room and some wall changing for an adequate reception room for church visitors. Mr. Odie Pearce, Arcadia contractor has been retained to do the remodeling.

The Bethany basketball team goes after their fifth consecutive win on Thursday night this week as they meet Immanuel Baptist in the Pasadena Muni League. The game will be held at 7 p.m. at the Pasadena City College gym.

Pasadena Christian Endeavor Division will hold their Quartet Sing at Bethany Church this Sunday evening, Jan. 20 at 8:30 p.m. The Countrymen Quartet will bring special music

Imagine! To our utter amazement we have been informed that there are those who do not know the identity of Margily Rowzov. Since we do not want this puzzling state of affairs to continue, leave us clarify this situation. Margily Rowzov is a composite of our two names, Marge Rowley and Emily Morzov. We believe in the rule — never sign your real name to anything without reading it! Kind remarks will be gratefully accepted — refer slander to our editor!

We are privileged to announce the arrival of the newest Christmas present of all. Master Steven Cyrus Alford came to live at 3675 Denair, the home of Cy and LeAnn Alford, on December 3. Best wishes to the parents, and welcome, Baby Steven!

A farewell luncheon, honoring Ann Myers, was held recently at the home of June Ziegler, who was assisted by Ann Daisey. The guest of honor was presented with a beautiful floral turquoise "nifty" by Ruth Nicholson, Harriet Resnick, Ann Strasser, Clare Riley, Thelma Barclay and her mother, Mrs. Smith, from Sierra Madre; Nancy Larsen, Carol Spies, Nada Barnes of Covina; Louise Gersh of Arcadia, Kay Dunlap, Charlotte Petit, Jo Carroll, and June's mother, Mrs. Prins, who is visiting from Chicago. The Myers family is now living in Daytona Beach, Florida.

The Hasty Hens received a liberal education yesterday at their regular monthly meeting. Mr. Cockel, of the Pasadena Police Department, was introduced by Lorrain McGiven, program chairman. He gave an illustrated talk on narcotics. They met in the home of Theresa Sanders and president, Margaret Mann conducted the short business meeting.

There will be short rations this month in the home of members of Las Campanas. They are saving for their "Day at the Races" on February 6. Factual information: Black horses run faster than brown. How about that? Speaking of chance — Marge and Neal Rowley accomplished 20 years of wedded bliss on January 10! The wives on Daveric helped her celebrate with a set of wine glasses complete with wine. Those toasting this fabulous achievement were Emily Morzov, Helen Glaser, Vanda Stewart, Isabelle Goldsmith, Lois Harri-

What Religious Science Does

"What Religious Science Does" is the sermon-topic of Dr. Ethel Barnhart, minister, at both the family worship service at 9 a.m. and the regular 11 a.m. worship service Sunday morning, Jan. 20, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 226 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia. This is the third of a series of lesson-sermons during January devoted to the Religious Science teaching and the results in the life of the individual, who practices the essence of the teaching.

Junior Church for children from kindergarten through ninth grade meets at 9 a.m., and a Sunday evening Youth Activity for high school and college students meets at 7:30.

A meditation hour conducted by Rev. Rosalie Fowler meets every Wednesday morning at 10:30.

The regular monthly meeting of the women of the church and their friends will be held Monday evening, January 21st, at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Barnhart will speak to the women on "Regeneration and Rejuvenation Is Your Birthright."

The prayer ministry of the Church includes a telephone service. Dr. Barnhart urges, "Call HI 7-6162 day or night for spiritual help to meet your every need."

and Dave Grant will be speaking. The sing is open to anyone, young or old and will be over at 9:30.

son, Peggy Bergh, Fay Katz, Jean Nikola, and Jo Wells. The William Mangham family are really ski enthusiasts. They spend the summer water skiing. For Christmas they gave themselves complete snow ski outfits and headed for the Mammoth area for a week's practice. Bill and Gayle were accompanied by sons Ronnie and Gary. On the way home they visited Reno and Lake Tahoe.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brittell, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Woodworth attended a dinner dance recently at the South Hills Country Club, given by the Monrovia Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Brittell is a director of the C. of C.

A surprise bridge luncheon at the home of Marie Walsh was held in honor of Geraldine Newhouse. Jo Caffee and Dorothy Castor completed the foursome celebrating Dini's birthday. Instead of candles the birthday cake was topped with sparklers. This display of fireworks created such a smoke screen the guests choked out "Happy Birthday" as they opened windows and tried to locate the guest of honor.

Having something good come out of something bad is always worth writing about. We are referring to a series of incidents that happened recently to Fred and Marge Sawyer. A couple of weeks ago their car was stolen. Their pedigreed dachuund was sleeping in the back seat. The police found the car which had been mishandled and damaged. A Monrovia resident found the dog, contacted the Pasadena Humane Society to obtain the owner's phone number, and notified the Sawyers. Fred and Marge insisted upon giving a cash reward in appreciation for the return of their pet. A few days later they received a card from the Los Angeles County Heart Association, acknowledging receipt of a like amount in the name of their dog. What nice people!

The Needlework Guild of Hastings Ranch will meet for lunch and work at the home of Robbie Pruitt on January 24. The members will spend the day cutting out layettes for their first project of the year. This group, a branch of the National Needlework Guild, makes donations of cash and clothing. Many bolts of material are used in the making of nighties, dresses, dusters, and pajamas by the industrious women. Mrs. Pruitt, director, will be assisted this year by Mrs. Frank White and Mrs. Cecil Davis.

Dwight Smith flew from here to Dayton, Ohio, to begin a ten-day business trip. While there, he called his wife, Wilma, to tell her that he would be in Des Moines the next day, and if she could get there he would stay over for a visit with her family. Dwight had never met her two sisters. Wilma packed one outfit and planed to Des Moines, where they were wined and feted by many relatives and friends. Instead of one day, he stayed three, and left Wilma there while he went to Dallas. From there he went on to Denver where Wilma joined him. This was also supposed to be a one-day visit but they were having such a wonderful time with friends that they remained a few days longer.

During this time they kept calling the housekeeper and saying "We'll be home in one more day," but this wasn't the case. At one time during the trip they found it necessary to contact the bank for the provision of money for food for the starving family remaining in Pasadena. Dwight had one more stop to make — Salt Lake City — so he took Wilma with him. This quick stop proved to be the longest of the trip, and Salt Lake City will never be the same!

Since Wilma had packed only one change of clothing and he had only planned on a short trip, they found themselves in the position of having to remain in their room while their clothes were being cleaned and doing the daily bathroom laundry. Thank goodness for drip-dries! Their flight home included a stop in Las Vegas, but our weary travelers were too tired to even leave the plane. There's nothing like planning ahead!

See what faith can do! — It rained, didn't it?

Education Week

Nursery School Invites Visit During Jan. 20 - 26

The Sierra Madre Community Nursery School Association invites its many friends in the community to visit the nursery school classrooms during the week of Jan. 20 to Jan. 26. This is Nursery Education Week, a time for getting acquainted with nursery school facilities and philosophies.

Director Mrs. Lillian Burke, and the teaching staff, will welcome all visitors in the Nursery School office at 601 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. any weekday from 9 a.m. to noon, and will be happy to give them a tour of the grounds.

The nursery school is built, maintained, and administered by Sierra Madre parents of pre-school children, and the buildings and land are the property of every citizen of Sierra Madre. Rooms are available during non-school hours for committee meetings etc., and high school students take advantage of the handsome new Group IV during during the summer for Friday night record dances.

A child's happy experience in nursery school can be a first friendly step out into the world beyond his own home — a step to give him confidence in other children and adults who are new to him. In a cooperative school like this, especially, mothers work and learn together with the children, giving them a chance to observe their own child in perspective with the others, and the chance to share with him the learning experience.

In short, the school belongs to all and should be seen and appreciated. Parents have found it a supplement to the good home, making possible social, play, and learning experiences that a single family alone cannot provide.

The Sierra Madre Community Nursery School is recognized throughout the country and internationally as a pioneer and leader among cooperative nursery schools. With the inspiration and guidance of Mrs. Marjorie Green, founder, the nursery school has prepared a handbook which has become a famous and valued text in the organization and management of pre-school education. Orders for the handbook come from all parts of the world where parents are interested in providing the best possible nursery experience for their children.

Sierra Madreans — even those whose children are not of nursery school age — should learn about and take pride in this fine institution in their midst. And what better time than Nursery Education Week to come in and get acquainted? We look forward to seeing as many of you as possible, says the association.
